Compliance Software Named a North Carolina Top 100 Small Business

Sanford, NC – September 22, 2009 -- Compliancy Software, provider of next generation GRC Plus™ solutions for automating Governance, Risk management, and Compliance (GRC) processes PLUS any existing manual controls and general business operations was selected by Business Leader Media as one of its top 100 North Carolina Small Businesses.

Business Leader Media uses an algorithm based on revenue growth, business achievements and community involvement to assign a ranking to establish its top 100 list and then acknowledges these companies in a series of events in North Carolina.

“Compliancy is honored to be recognized by Business Leader Media.” said Mark Shaw, CEO, President and co-founder of Compliancy Software. “Our success has been driven by high customer satisfaction with our solution and its unique automation capabilities for addressing GRC and existing manual controls and general business processes to reduce costs, reduce risk, and improve effectiveness.”

Compliancy lets companies start automating any GRC or existing manual controls and integrate future regulatory or general business requirements with a single, easy to use platform. Compliancy’s solution has a unique flexibility for defining any controls and relationships to address any current and future oversight regulations, continuous control monitoring of any control and transaction against defined business rules to more quickly address issues, and Individualized Task Routing™ (ITR) so that task owners only deal with their specific tasks thus eliminating access to complex systems and significantly reducing training and support costs. It offers advanced capabilities such as automated issues management, rules driven escalations, customizable alerts and reporting, and web services driven application integration.

The net result is lower costs and more effective compliance and risk management with improved business performance and a future proof solution.
