Compliancy Announces Customer Partner Portal for Global Compliance Integration of Third Parties Companies Can Integrate Suppliers and Contractors Globally to Ensure Compliance of FCPA and other GRC Requirements

Research Triangle Park, NC – September 25, 2012. Compliancy, a leader in FCPA/Anti-corruption and GRC automation solutions, announced the availability of their Customer Partner Portal for companies who need secure integration of third parties, such as partners, suppliers, contractors and their customers, into their FCPA/Anti-corruption and GRC automation solution on a world-wide basis.

The FCPA applies to more than individuals in a company but also to any “third party” or “intermediaries” such as stockholders, agents or “partners” acting on behalf of the company.

In order to avoid being held liable for corrupt third party actions, it is critical that companies exercise due diligence and take necessary precautions to ensure the third parties are reputable and qualified partners and representatives that are engaged in lawful transactions. Furthermore, it is critical that all documents and processes for vetting third parties are captured and maintained on a regular basis. Obviously this can be a time consuming and costly task.

Compliancy’s Customer Partner Portal provides an ideal solution for companies to provide secure, automated access to third parties for profiling, vetting and monitoring on a global basis at a greatly reduced cost while significantly reducing risk.

In addition, as with the entire Compliancy solution, the Customer Partner Portal can easily use a company’s current investments in policies and procedures and then easily customize them for changes, enhancements and integration across the various divisions and countries.

“Compliancy’s addition of a secure Customer Partner Portal provides a more cost effective solution for managing businesses that are increasing their global reach and deal with the regulatory complexities of different countries,” said Mark Shaw, President and co-founder of Compliancy.
